Please help us keep Celebrating Special Children as a hard-copy publication!

We are in danger of becoming an online-ONLY resource. Printing and distribution costs are rising more quickly than we can raise funds, so your support of our mission is more important than ever. A small tax-deductible contribution from you will help us continue to bring this important information in hard-copy format to the families of children with special needs and the professionals who care for them. If you have found our publication to be useful to you and your family or the families you serve, please consider donating one of the amounts listed below.

Our Tax ID is 41-2108144 • Thank you very much!
